More about Junior

Junior Cervila is one of the most talented Tango dancer, teacher and choreographer to come out of Argentina today. He was featured in the film by Carlos Saura "Tango," which won an Oscar nomination for Best Foreign Film in 1998. In addition to starring in the film, he was principal assistant to choreographer Juan Carlos Copes. He also danced in the famous Broadway production of Tango Argentino and with Guillermina Quiroga as part of Julio Iglesias's world tour. Junior is currently on tour in the production of his own show, "Latin Dance." He has performed throughout Europe, Asia and Latin America, starring in productions in Japan, the UK, Portugal, Russia, Germany, Central and South America as well as the United States. Junior's classes primarily focus on proper technique for social dancing; however, some elements in the more advanced classes will also be suitable for exhibition. His workshops are excellent for those interested to learn how to navigate smoothly on a crowded dance floor as well as for those who wish to be challenged by demanding figures. He has been praised by many students for his ease of teaching style and the lucidity in his communication techniques.
